RX3 COMPOUNDING PHARMACY HELPING TO KEEP THE COMMUNITY SAFE DURING COVID-19 BY PROVIDING PREMIER FACE MASKS

Rx3 Compounding Pharmacy is committed to keeping the community safe and informed as we all navigate life during the Coronavirus Pandemic. As many return to work and possibly school in the near future, Rx3 has made it their mission to provide premier protective equipment to the community. As a result, they now carry the only reusable facemask that leverages the antimicrobial and odor-neutralizing technologies found in copper and hemp.

Leveraging the technology from their sister company Hemp Black, the Ananda Health fusion / FACE MASK introduces two innovative textile technologies into one product. The fusion / FACE MASK combines the technologies of Cupron antimicrobial material and the odor neutralizing HEMP BLACK / element yarn, both strategically integrated for maximum benefits. By using these specific technologies this mask offers a solution to Mask Fatigue and slowing the spread of COVID-19.

Ananda Health's Chief Science Officer and Medical Director, Dr. Alex Capano stated, "With our patent pending Hemp Black Element Fibers on the inside of the mask and the golden oil, we are able to help the user have a more pleasant experience and also neutralize odor. The outside of the masks is infused with a material called Cupron, which won The Infection Control Product to Know Award just 2 years ago. It is registered with the EPA and the FDA as an infection control product. We know for certain that this is antimicrobial, and emerging research shows that Cupron is able to kill SARS-CoV-2 the virus that causes COVID-19."

"Here at Rx3 Compounding Pharmacy we saw a need in the community for a sustainable and cost-effective mask that could be used by everyone. While disposable and homemade masks help decrease the spread of COVID-19, they are not always practical, and the re-purchasing cost can add up depending on one's lifestyle. Wearing a mask is very important to slowing the spread of the virus and we have noticed firsthand how much easier it is to wear a mask that fits properly and is breathable. We hope that by providing a mask that combats mask fatigue we encourage more people to wear masks and stay safe. We welcome anyone in the community especially businesses who are curious about our hemp infused, antimicrobial and odor neutralizing masks to give us a call at 804-717-5000."

"Our goal is to help those in our communities to live healthier, happier lives. That mission has not waivered with COVID-19 and we will strive to provide our customers with proper information and protection." said Chris Currin, Owner & Pharmacist at Rx3 Compounding Pharmacy.

About Ananda Health

Uniquely controlling the process from the seed to shelf, Ananda Health crafts the highest-quality hemp extract for health, wellness, and beauty products exclusively available at independent pharmacies. Grown by nature and perfected by science, its full and broad-spectrum products feature multiple cannabinoids, terpenes, and intentionally selected ingredients, not just the CBD molecule.

Before arriving to the pharmacy, every product must pass 30 analytical tests and third-party, ISO-certified labs test all finished products for potency, residual solvents, pesticides, micro, and heavy metals. The batch-specific results are easily accessed by a QR code on the label so consumers can trust exactly what is in the bottle.

Ananda's parent company, Ecofibre, a global leader in hemp technologies, owns one of the world's largest privately held cannabis seed banks and its geneticists, scientists, and farmers have been working on isolating the best hemp strains in the world for nearly 20 years.
